contributed to his socialist ideology. He was a Canadian businessman in oil and minerals, and became the first head of Petro-Canada. He went on to represent Canada as Under-Secretary General of the United Nations. Strong was well known for putting the environment on the international agenda, and organized the Rio Earth Summits in 1992 — a precursor to the United Nations climate change conference (COP21) in Paris. Considered visionary in his lifelong pursuits to further the environmental movement, Strong was the recipient of many prestigious awards including the Order of Canada.

In his memory, the President-CEO of the International Institute for Sustainable Development (IISD) Scott Vaughan; David Runnalls, IISD President (1998-2010); and Arthur Hanson, IISD President

4th Annual Fair Trade Conference

The Canadian Fair Trade Network (CFTN) and MCIC are proud to host Canada's 4th Annual Fair Trade Conference, Feb. 18-20, 2016, in Winnipeg. The event will bring together delegates from across the movement to create new partnerships and further the impact of fair trade. This year's conference will build upon foundations laid in Calgary (2013), Toronto (2014) and Montreal (2015). As awareness and support for fair trade grows, this conference has become a key event for leaders to connect, share and learn.

There will be international speakers from Guatemala, Tanzania, and South Africa, as well as a Fair Trade Fair. Visit the Conference website for more information and to register.

Responding to the Refugee Crisis in Syria

In response to the refugee crisis in Syria, the Government of Manitoba has provided MCIC with $200,000 in Special Relief and Rehabilitation funds. The funds have been allocated to four overseas projects for displaced refugees. The projects by Mennonite Central Committee (MCC) Canada, Canadian Lutheran World Relief (CLWR), and UNICEF Canada will offer lifesaving humanitarian support and meet the educational needs of children in the region. The project details are posted on the MCIC website.
